

Employee Retention Program

Ergonomic Work Site Health Programs can provide your site with a new tool to enhance recruitment and retention programs that dovetail smoothly with existing safety programs.

Our On Site Ergonomic Injury Reduction Program Includes:

- 1) We provide health care services to address the symptoms and injuries directly tied to your site performance.
- 2) Ergonomic consultation and problem solving helps improve the experience of working at your facility, as well as reducing the strain that can lead to painful and expensive injuries.
- 3) Group and individual ergonomic training on site can facilitate more rapid RTW, injury prevention and effective modified duty options.

Providing health services at work is convenient. The health provider also becomes familiar with the tasks of work, making RTW and modified work much more effective.

For a fraction of the cost of wage increases, let our programs assist you in providing an enhanced workplace. Our history since 1999 in reducing injury rates significantly in industrial sites while improving the employees experience at work.

Return on Investment will be between 3 and 10 times the investment, depending upon your circumstances. These programs have all paid for themselves.

Call us to hear how we can make a custom program to enhance safety and performance while providing another tool for employee retention at your workplace.

Dr. Ken Bergquist